ONE MAN’S TRASH IS ANOTHER MAN’S TREASURE
TREASURE OR TRASH DAY AT THE WORCESTER ART MUSEUM
ONE DAY ONLY!

(WORCESTER, Mass., August 23, 2007) – Go up to the attic, down to the cellar, and over to Grandma’s house; look in the garage, in the closet, and in that box you have not opened in years. Get ready for Treasure or Trash Day at the Worcester Art Museum on Sunday, October 28 from 12-5pm!

Do you have a family heirloom passed down through generations? Maybe a great yard sale item or flea market finds that might be a treasure? Appraisers from Skinner, Inc. Auctioneers and Appraisers of Boston and Bolton, MA will provide verbal appraisals for your items at the Worcester Art Museum. You may have seen these appraisers on the popular PBS series the Antiques Roadshow.

Don’t forget to return to the Museum to see the treasures Henry Francis du Pont collected during his life in

Teacher’s Institute: An American Vision Integrating the Decorative Arts Across the Curriculum
Tuesdays, September 18–December 11, 4pm–7pm, (Field trip: October 13)
$400 members, $420 nonmembers, $380.00 CredFITCHG (3 credits)
Instructor: Jane Lattimore
The decorative arts, those objects that are created to be both useful and beautiful, can tell us much about the times and lifestyles of their creators and users. This art education course will examine the Museum’s decorative arts collection and works in the special exhibition An American Vision: Treasures from the Winterthur Museum to discover more about the people and places of early America. The class will take a field trip to tour Pendleton House at the Museum of Art, Rhode Island School of Design. Students will study American decorative arts from colonial times through the 19th century. Methods of integrating the historical and cultural significance of decorative arts into classroom curriculum will be discussed and applied. A significant portion of each class will be spent in the studio learning traditional art-making techniques including faux painting, stenciling, tin-punching, decorative painting, textiles, and ceramics, and adapting them as potential classroom projects. Students taking this course for credit will be required to complete a curriculum research and lesson plan assignment. Note: Teachers of all disciplines enjoy a variety of Museum classes and can receive PDPs for any class.

Instructor: Loren Hoekzema
From 1640 to 1860, American literature has used descriptions of household crafts to reveal character, plot, and theme. We’ll visit the special exhibition An American Vision: Treasures from the Winterthur Museum to explore how Colonial, Federal, and American Renaissance writers such as Anne Bradstreet, Edward Taylor, Thomas Jefferson, Edgar Allan Poe, Nathaniel Hawthorne, and Herman Melville understood the role of the decorative arts in American life and culture.

Decorative Arts Symposium: Collecting and Preserving Early America
Sunday, March 16, 2008, Time TBD
Held in conjunction with the exhibition An American Vision: Treasures from the Winterthur Museum, this symposium will focus on the need to collect and preserve the cultural history of Early America. Preeminent scholars from throughout the nation will present on a variety of topics. Pre-registration required, please check back for more details.

About the Worcester Art Museum
The Worcester Art Museum, which opened to the public in 1898, is world-renowned for its 35,000-piece collection of paintings, sculpture, decorative arts, photography, prints, drawings and new media. The works span 5,000 years of art and culture. View paintings by Cassatt, Gauguin, Goya, Monet, Sargent and Whistler; admire floor mosaics from the ancient city of Antioch; see cutting-edge contemporary art; and discover the Museum’s many other treasures. Special exhibitions showcase the masterworks, seldom-seen gems, and important works on loan. Enjoy a delectable lunch in the Museum Café, and browse the Shop for unique gifts and mementos.

Dedicated to the promotion of art and art education, the Museum offers a year-round studio art and art appreciation program that enrolls over 7,000 adult and youth students each year. Public tours are offered Saturdays at 11 a.m. and Sundays at 1 p.m., September through May. Audio tours are also available in English and Spanish.

Museum hours are Wednesday through Sunday, 11am-5pm, Third Thursdays of every month, 11am-8pm, and Saturday, 10am-5pm. Admission is $10 for adults, $8 for seniors and full-time college students with current ID, and FREE for Members and all youth 17 and under. Admission is also FREE for everyone on Saturday mornings, 10am-noon (sponsored by Fidelity Investments, The TJX Companies, Inc. and National Grid).
